

MARIANNE POSSBERG
Beef Production Specialist

Marianne Possberg joined the SCA after completing her Masters in Agricultural Economics at the University of Saskatchewan, where she studied profitability and sustainability on cow-calf farms. Originally from a family operated backgrounding and finishing operation, which originally had a cow-calf enterprise as well, she later worked in Ottawa with a research litigation firm, where she helped the office innovate while reducing costs. In her position as the Beef Production Specialist, Marianne searches for and ensures research investments that suit Saskatchewan beef producers' needs, while also providing producers with information about innovative management practices.
